Taylor At Carmangay

Gives Assurance No. 23 Will Be Black-topped

(By Carmangay Correspondent)

Black-topping of Highway 23 will definitely begin this year, the Hon. Gordon E. Taylor, Minister of Highways, told an audience of about 80 in the Carmangay Community Hall Wednesday of last week. He intimated that the work this year might only extend as far as Barons, but if the weather was good and the year's tender prices for road construction low enough there was a possibility it could be built further. "The fact that we have started," he said, "indicates that we want to continue it, and as fast as possible."

The Minister did not indicate whether the black-topping would follow Highway 23 into High River or would continue north of the Corner Store on Highway 24.

Mr. Taylor outlined and illustrated present-day procedure in the construction of road beds, saying that the specifications of only five years ago were now out of date.

The minister noted that in the depression years, the policy had been to build a great many roads as cheaply as possible "to get people out of the mud." After the depression, the Second World War used up most of the road-building materials.

At the end of the war, Alberta, in common with the rest of Canada, he said, had been faced with a tremendous and unexpected increase in the number of cars on the roads. Between 1948 and 1952, number of cars in Canada jumped from two to three million. Alberta had the largest per capita share of these.

"We were faced with the problem of putting into a pint of roads a gallon of vehicles," the minister said.

Accordingly, specifications had been greatly strengthened. All roads in the province are now built to Trans Canada Highway specifications or better, he said.

In addition, more money was set aside for highways. This year, the minister said, the province will spend a total of some $42,000,000 on highways, $30,000,000 of it for main highway construction. This sum, he noted, is twice the amount of the entire 1935 provincial budget.

Highways in the province were

now being built under a four-year program, Mr. Taylor told the meeting.

In the first year, work was done on the subgrades. Soils for the subgrades were tested in a new provincial laboratory and black dirt was sifted out of that to be used. Another factor in the building of the subgrade was finding the right route for the road to be built. Highways no longer followed the contours of the land, but travelled in straight lines, he said, saving maintenance costs because of shorter routes, as well as being safer.

Cost of the first year's work on the road would cost between $15,000 and $25,000 per mile, the minister said.

The second year's work, Mr. Taylor said, was the base course which would carry much of the heavy load on the highway. Up to 1951, the deepest base course ever applied in Alberta was six inches. Now, the minimum is nine inches, he noted.

Cost of the base coat was between $25,000 and $50,000 per mile. Third year's job is surfacing to give a smooth riding surface. Cost of the work, is between $10,000 and $20,000.

In the fourth year, Mr. Taylor said, the final seal coat is applied

District Couple Wed At Lethbridge

VAILE - HONESS

A quiet wedding took place in the Lethbridge Southminster United Church at 4 p.m. April 23, when Ethel Alice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Honess of Lomond, became the bride of Robert Alan Vaile, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Vaile of Calgary. Rev. Nelson Mercer officiated at the ceremony.

For her wedding the bride chose a gown of nylon net and chantilly lace mounted over satin. The bodice was lace with long lily point sleeves buttoning from the waist to a Peter Pan collar. Her finger tip veil fell gracefully from a matching tiara. She carried a bouquet of red roses and white carnations decorated with fern and white streamers.

The bride's only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Edward Howell who wore a coral gown of nylon net mounted over tulle, with a chantilly lace bodice and matching head dress. Her colored bouquet was of white carnations.

The groom was attended by Edward Howell of Armada.

The bride's mother wore a beige suit with matching accessories. Her corsage was of yellow carnations.

Following the ceremony a small reception was held at the Marquis Hotel.

For travelling the bride donned a navy blue afternoon dress with red accessories.

Alan and Ethel will spend a few days in Lethbridge and then take up residence in the Lomond-Armada district.

SERVICE BOARD NOTES

H. S. Burns, Field Supervisor

At the Science Service Laboratory of plant pathology, University of Alberta, Dr. L. E. Tyner has come up with a much simpler and easier process than the hot water treatment for control of loose smut in barley. Dr. Tyner has been studying chemical control and the most promising of these chemicals was Spergon, soaking barley with a water solution of 2 percent at room temperature for 46 hours controlled this trouble well, but before giving the chemical full credit he wanted to know what part the water played so tried soaking the barley in water at room temperature without Spergon, he found that the barley soaked in water alone for 40 hours gave around 50 percent control, and that soaking in water for 64 hours gave just as good control as soaking in the Spergon solution. Dr. Tyner therefore suggests that there are two methods that farmers can use to drive Loose Smut from barley crops, these methods are not practical for treating large amounts of seed on the farm, but can be used to advantage. Here are his suggestions to the farmer who wants to rid his barley fields of this smut and produce his own smut free seed.

Treat 3 or 4 bushels of seed and use it for 3 or 4 acres. This should be a seed plot well isolated from other barley on his own farm or others, the seed from this plot can then be used for seed of the main crop. He thinks that in order to maintain a good supply of seed year after year this program should be continued and in that way always have a supply of smut free seed.

To give better traction to the new road.

Total cost for a new road now is $75,000 to $100,000 per mile.

The meeting was opened and the Minister introduced by the Hon. Rev. Peter Dawson, Speaker of the House and member for Little Bow.

E. G. Hansell, M.P. for Macleod, also addressed the meeting briefly.

DELUXE CARS FOR C.P.R.

This busy production line at the sprawling Red Lion plant of the Budd Company near Philadelphia gives a clear indication of how close the Canadian Pacific Railway is to receiving the first units of a $40,000,000 order for 173 streamlined, stainless steel passenger cars ordered last summer. The first of 71 deluxe sleeping cars will be delivered in June and after that a steady stream of cars will be put into service until the order is completed in 1955 and 15 Canadian Pacific transcontinental trains are fully equipped. Included in the order will be 36 "scenic dome" cars with sky-view observation lounges the same as that in the inset, 30 coaches, 18 modern diners and 18 baggage dormitory cars.

Calgary Highlanders Hold Outdoor Training Scheme

Members of "A" Company, Calgary Highlanders (Reserve Force) participated in an outdoor scheme "Exercise Raider" in the coulee area east of Champion Sunday afternoon.

About 45 men of the unit took part in the scheme, with patrols going out to locate the "enemy" and two platoons then putting in an attack on a hill defended by "enemy" troops.

Each member of the unit was also instructed in sighting and firing of the two-inch mortars, with over 100 smoke bombs being used to lay down smoke screens at various times. Two universal carriers of the unit were also used in the exercise and two-way radio sets were used for communication. The exercise was directed by Major Bob Munro, assisted by Major Gordon Lee of Calgary.

Following the scheme, a delicious hot dinner was served in the basement of the Champion Community Hall by the Ladies Auxiliary of the Champion Branch, Canadian Legion.

On Tuesday night, April 27, a company parade was held at the Vulcan Armouries, the occasion being an inspection by Col. Cooper of the General Staff, Western Command, Edmonton. The company received an excellent rating from the Colonel, who was particularly pleased with the good attendance and the generally high standard of men enlisted in the unit.

Library Notes

A number of books selected for boys and girls have been added to the library shelves of the Vulcan Library. A complete series of horse stories by Walter Farley are among these books. These stories of Walter Farley's "The Black Stallion" are of intense interest to boys and girls of 12 to 15 years of age. One of these, "The Son of Black Stallion", is the story of a boy's love for his horse, a love that was strong enough to overcome the fear within his own heart, a love that would not let him believe that his desert-born stallion could not be freed of his savage, natural instinct to kill. It is a story that will be loved and understood by boys and girls of all ages, by all those who have ever had a horse of their own, or wanted one. Other titles by this same author are "The Black Stallion", and "The Black Stallion Returns." Once a boy or girl reads one of these, he will wish to read the remainder of the series.

Regular Meeting Missionary Class

Mrs. S. Naiziger was hostess to 16 ladies of the Keystone Missionary Class of the Church of Christ for April. After the usual singing of hymns and a prayer by Mrs. Bud Schneider, the minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. The roll call was responded to by the members expressing Easter thoughts.

Ten dollars was voted to be sent to the Rempels, missionaries in India, to assist with their passage home to Canada on furlough. The visiting committee reported 30 calls. Miss C. Rinehart gave the devotional talk in the absence of Miss N. Ware who was unable to attend. The speaker's subject was "The Tabernacle in Moses' Time."

The singing of a hymn by the ladies and a prayer by Mrs. J. Chapman closed the meeting after which a lovely lunch was served by the hostess for which a hearty vote of thanks was given.

FWUA Reports Presented At District Conference

The regular summer conference of the FWUA for the East side of District 12 was held April 22 at the Canadian Legion Hall, Vulcan. There were about 50 delegates registered from the locals of Milo, Queenstown, Arrowwood, Red Cross, Berrywater and John Canucks Jrs. The Arrowwood Jrs., always a very active group, did not bring a report to the morning session.

Noon luncheon for about 35 ladies was catered to by Mrs. Dobbs.

Mayor Allan opened the afternoon session with an address of welcome extended from the Town of Vulcan and also wishes the conference success in its endeavours.

Mrs. Webber, on behalf of the hostess local, welcomed the delegates to the conference. Mrs. Lawrence of High River, director for district 12, gave her report on work done in district. Since the first of the year two new F.U.A. locals have been organized and membership is up 60% over 1953.

Mrs. W. C. Taylor of Wainwright Provincial President, addressed the Conference. She explained how the FWUA Brief on Education was presented to the cabinet. The committee had compiled resolutions on Education which had come in during the last 10 years and made up a 200 word brief of policies based on these resolutions. She drew to the attention of the delegates that a resolution at the last Provincial Convention asked for a training course for school supervisors. This came in because reports from some rural districts in Alberta where children had completed their elementary schooling entirely under supervisors.

Mrs. Taylor also gave a very interesting report on the ACWW conference held last year in Canada and showed slides of her trip. This was much enjoyed by all present. The FWUA each year adopts one country of the ACWW for study. This year they have chosen Pakistan, and this was carried out in the theme of the conference. When the delegates registered they were given a lapel decoration of a tea bag, cotton wool, and jute string, all export products of Pakistan.

Miss Norma Adam was introduced to the ladies. Norma is the Farm Young People's candidate for District 12 and if chosen queen will preside over the Farm Young Peoples' week held at University of Alberta during the week of June 8.

Bill Steiner of Arrowwood Jrs.

was also introduced to the conference. He, with Miss Mable Rasmussen of Gwynne, will represent the Junior FUA of Alberta on a visit to Scotland this year where they will be entertained by the Farmers' Union there, and will study farming in that country. Also contributing to the program of entertainment was Mrs. Nancy Smith of Milo, who rendered two very nice solos. A trio of Arrowwood kiddies, Betty Anne and Michael Berry and Carol King put on two tap dance numbers.

Mrs. Milt Ward of Arrowwood reported on the C. A. convention held at London, Ont., in January. She paid tribute to the fine work on behalf of Agriculture done by Dr. Herb Hannam, President of Canada's Federation of Agriculture.

A number of resolutions were passed and directed to District 12 convention to be held June 4 at Nanton. Outstanding among these was a request that a study program for the locals be set up to study two vital books on International Welfare, "War on World Poverty" and "Wake Up or Blow Up." A resolution from High River Conference held April 21 was endorsed re: Protecting the Net Worth statements and Intensive Inquiry into the income of farmers who have been making out acceptable income tax returns.

The hostess locals, Red Cross and Berrywater, presided over the tea hour.

Shower Honors Recent Bride

Twenty-five friends and neighbors attended a community shower held at the home of Mrs. Ed Larkins on Thursday, April 15, to honor Mrs. Gordon Chapman, the former Miss Kay Orchard.

Bingo and several contests were enjoyed by all, with prizes given to the winners. Gifts were then presented to the bride on behalf of all those present and Mrs. Chapman expressed her thanks for the lovely gifts. A delicious lunch was served by the hostesses.

Local residents who subscribe to the National Geographic magazine may recognize, in a full page ad in the April issue, a picture of the famous tornado that struck Vulcan on July 8, 1925. The original picture, reproduced above, was taken by D. C. Jones, proprietor of a Vulcan drug store at that time, and shows the tornado at the west end of main street as it approached the town. A few minutes later the whirling funnel struck the town, completely wrecking the curling rink, demolishing the Roy Ferguson livery barn, tearing out a brick wall in the Burrows Motors building and doing other damage. Farms in the path of the tornado, particularly south-west of Vulcan, were also damaged to some extent. This picture of the tornado was widely reproduced in papers across Canada and the U.S. and even in Europe.

THE WEATHER

Snow flurries and record-breaking low temperatures for this time of year have been almost daily occurrences this past week. Monday night brought a four-inch snowfall and 15-above temperature, with no change to warmer weather in sight.

WESTERN CANADA PRECIPITATION MAP SHOWING PRECIPITATION FROM AUGUST 1ST TO NOVEMBER 1ST, 1953 AS COMPARED WITH THE AVERAGE OF 30 YEARS OR MORE

This map shows the distribution of the fall rainfall; that is the rains which fell over the prairies from August 1st to November 1st, 1953, or between harvest and freeze-up. These rains form an important part of the reserve moisture for the use of the crops which are to be seeded this coming spring.

The figures reveal that the fall rains for Alberta were 77% or normal, for Saskatchewan 82% of normal and for Manitoba 80% of normal, giving a total for the three prairie provinces averaged together and weighted for wheat acreage of 80.5% of normal.

This means that in order to obtain average yields of all grains next harvest, then better than average rains will have to occur during the growing season from April 1st to July 31st, in order to make up for this somewhat reserve deficiency.

County Seed Cleaning Plant
Merits Support

Apparently there has been considerable misunderstanding concerning the construction of a county seed cleaning plant. These plants are constructed under supervision of the Provincial Department of Agriculture, for the purpose of providing the farmers of the County or Municipal District, which ever the case may be, with a source of clean seed. Seed drill surveys taken over the last 40-year period show that in a high percentage of cases, seed that farmers were using contained too many weed seeds to be called seed, and was not fit to be seeded. It was as a result of these surveys that the policy for assisting establishment of the large Municipal or County seed cleaning plants was initiated.

The policy allows for a three-sided agreement between the County, the Department of Agriculture and shareholders of the seed cleaning co-operative which is required to be formed, before a seed cleaning plant can be built. Under the agreement the County pays a third, the Department of Agriculture pays a third and approximately a third is raised by the shareholders.

In the case of the County seed cleaning plant, $15,000 would be the County's share. It would take a little over 1 mill to raise this amount of money. The average cost per quarter section, the taxpayer would be getting $2.40 from the Provincial Government and $2.40 from the shareholders towards building the cleaning plant. It should be borne in mind also, that the cost of the seed cleaning plant is raised during one year, and no increase would be necessary beyond one year for the purpose of a seed cleaning plant.

It should also be understood that more than one seed cleaning plant may be built in one M.D. or County. In other words the Department of Agriculture will give more than one grant to a district for this purpose.

These plants are operated by a board of directors elected as follows: 2 from the County Council; 1 from the Department of Agriculture and 6 from the shareholders of the seed cleaning co-operative association. This means that the shareholders always have a majority on the board of directors, in other words the Seed Cleaning Association cannot be dictated to by the Government or Council.

Provision has also been made whereby shareholders in the present association may have their shares redeemed if another seed cleaning association is organized in the County. This means that none of the stockholders in the present seed cleaning association will be penalized when the time comes that they would like to support a cleaning plant which may be located nearer to their own farm.

If the County grant for the proposed seed cleaning plant is turned down, it would appear that the building of another such plant might not take place for a long time. The reasoning behind such a statement is this, if the farmers who are backing the present movement are not supported, it is only logical to assume that they may not support any future move in some other section of the County.

This country was developed by co-operation, and it is only by getting together and co-operating that future development will take place. Let's get together on this issue and support a move to further better farming in the Vulcan County.

SEED CLEANING PLANT ... THE PROS and CONS

Letters to the Editor

The Editor, Vulcan Advocate.
Dear Sir:

In a letter to the Editor, Mr. C. H. Andrews, president of the Vulcan Seed Cleaning Association, makes some surprising statements with reference to matters associated with building a seed cleaning plant in Vulcan. He states that "being a farmer myself it is not credible to me that the signers of this petition can be opposed to the building of a seed cleaning plant." He further makes much of the point that the signers are costing the County needless expense and the Seed Cleaning Association much in time lost.

From carefully reading Mr. Andrews' letter I can only conclude that he is either be-clouding the issue or is guilty of not bothering to deal with all the facts.

The petition so much under discussion recently in this area simply states that the signers request Vulcan County No. 2 to present money bylaw No. 60 to the proprietary electors for a vote. There is not one word about being against a seed cleaning plant.

Now, a number of gentlemen, Mr. Andrews included, have undertaken to put the poor, misguided masses right on a few things as related to seed cleaning in the County of Vulcan. Mr. H. S. Burns, in the April 22 Advocate, intimates that the type of plant under consideration here is capable of cleaning 10,000 bushels of clean seed per day which seems a bit high when these kind of plants are designed to clean 125 to 160 bushels per hour.

At a public meeting held in the Champion School April 26 this writer was much impressed by the array of big guns brought in to sway the tide of battle. The Rev. Peter Dawson, M.L.A., acted as chairman of the meeting. Mr. A. M. Wilson, field crops commissioner and an assistant were in attendance as were Mr. H. H. Michaels, District Agriculturist and H. S. Burns, supervisor, Agricultural Service Board for the County. A variety of points were covered by the speakers whom, with one exception (Mr. Burns), drew attention to the fact that should outlying areas defeat the money bylaw, the Vulcan people should surely make their suffer should they ever require assistance in their areas. During the question and discussion period I very sternly expressed my disapproval at this waving of the big stick. The discussion period greatly tended to clarify some points, while others were left quite hazy.

Mr. Wilson very earnestly tried to give all sides as clear an impression as he could on contentions.

He pointed out that in various districts petitions had been circulated against money bylaws for seed cleaning plants and that programs had often been held up several years or defeated.

The meeting showed strong interest as to whether one plant would have to do Vulcan County. Mr. Wilson stated that one plant could not be expected to care for all the farmers in this area. He also told of an instance in the Vegreville, Willingdon, Myrnum area where a plant had been turned down by the ratepayers when a plant was proposed for Vegreville. The Municipal authorities of that area finally passed a bylaw to build these plants in that area and the last plant will now soon be in production.

After having listened to many discussions pro and con, the following factors seem paramount where it is proposed to build one plant to try to serve an area such as ours.

Everyone cannot be a shareholder. The majority of the shareholders will live in an area closely bordering the cleaner site. Those not being shareholders are not assured that they will not have to pay a two cent a bushel penalty. That those people living far away will be further penalized by having to haul their seed great distances. A great number of ratepayers feel that the holding of a plebiscite will allow some horse trading and research into some solutions which would have been out of the question in the initial stages of this vital matter. People will not be intimidated by being told what may happen to them in the event their ballots are not marked to some people's liking.

There is a strong feeling that if the County Council were to institute a program of building or rather assisting to build seed cleaning plants at strategic points in the County there would be much greater support than will be the case where a single plant is set up with little regard to long distance planning. Most people realize also that more plants cost more in the form of taxes but the tax is really reduced in so far as that one's hauling costs are cut down when you don't have to haul your grain so great a distance to have it cleaned.

In closing, as one believing in the great principles of democracy, I urge every ratepayer to get out on May 8 and vote according to his or her principles.

Respectfully submitted,
C. J. Versluys.

The Editor, Vulcan Advocate.
Dear Editor:

On the 8th of May ratepayers of the County will vote on a bylaw whether to use $15,000.00 of County funds for ½ the cost of a Seed Plant to be built in Vulcan. The balance of the cost to be shared equally by private subscription of shares by farmers of the County and the Provincial Government. This is not a new venture in any sense for nearly a dozen similar plants have been built in the province with a consistent record of success in filling a need in the agricultural advancement of Alberta.

In the history of the development of the country there have always been a few, a minority happily, who for a variety of reasons have been against any advancement of our collective lot, whether it has been power or roads or schools or a seed plant. And it is interesting to look at the reasons for this opposition to the plant. "I don't like the men that are running it," a childish remark that should have no bearing on the question. The board is a duly elected one and may and can be changed at the next annual meeting. "The plant only helps the big guy, not the small farmer." This reason is not in accord with the facts. The cost to the small farmer through his taxes will be less than $250 per quarter. For this amount, which won't buy screens for his own mill, he has the use of a plant that will turn out a product that will pass the rigid seed standards of the country. As for helping the big farmer, certainly. But by the same token the big acreage farmer can afford to put in his own cleaner, on his own farm, and which many will do if this bylaw is turned down. This of course will hinder the establishment of a plant anywhere in the county for years to come.

There have been complaints that the distance to Vulcan is too far. We ourselves are some 25 miles from Vulcan and after hauling seed 34 miles to Calgary for cleaning, 25 miles seems like in our backyard. Personally, I certainly would like to see the cleaner across the road from my buildings but failing that, having one in the County is a big step forward.

There has been raised the point "Why should I support a plant in Vulcan when I have a good plant at home." This is by men who by the very fact that they have installed cleaners are progressive farmers, alert to the need for good seed and to the dangers of the spread of weeds. And to this farmer I would suggest that by the very nature of the spread of weeds he cannot maintain a weed-free oasis in the midst of weeds. The spread by runoff water and wind and cattle is against him. And I suggest that this type of farmer would feel a lot better if he knew that his not-so-weed-conscious neighbor had the opportunity of using a plant of the kind that is proposed for Vulcan.

I recently took a pint sample of seed cleaned by one of the better portable mills operating in the county. The count on this seed which will be seeded this year was 220 wild oats, 880 buckwheat and 12,240 kernels of wheat that through damage wouldn't germinate—this from one bushel of seed. Think of it! 450 wild oats carefully sown over 1 acre of land, 1200 buckwheat scattered thinly over that acre of summerfallow. The 12,000 kernels that won't grow is simply feed thrown away or to put it another way 5 to 10 pounds worth 10 to 20 cents of feed per acre, which on an average 400 acres of wheat amount to $40 to $80 this year. The cost to him on his taxes this year for the proposed plant will be less than $1250. In the light of this one example alone I say emphatically that the opposition and the resultant petition was not based on the merits of the seed plant at all.

Farmers, on May 8 take off one hour from that drill or tiller and with a neighbor, go down and vote in favor of the bylaw. It will be one of your most profitable hours of this 1954.

Varno Westersund,
Herrington, Alta.

Edmonton Report

By Donald F. Smith
Special Correspondent

EDMONTON — The Alberta legislature entered its seventh week in the current session with considerable legislation still to be fully considered.

Highlights last week included the announcement of plans to set up a pension plan for cabinet ministers and workmen's compensation. The education department's bill to establish a six-week teacher training program this summer was continued subject to debate as it moved through various stages toward enactment.

Social Credit back-bencher Lee Leavitt (Banff-Cochrane) sparked the teacher training debate by declaring his stand against the government-proposed legislation on the dictates of his conscience. The Liberals went to the extent of moving that the minister of education, Hon. A. O. Aalborg (Alexandra) should not be given approval of the House to introduce the bill. The motion was defeated. Many hours have been spent considering the controversial proposal. It was the subject of protracted hearings of representatives of various organizations in the legislature's education committee, before which it was supported by the Alberta School Trustees' Association and the Farm Women's Union of Alberta and opposed by such organizations as the Alberta Teachers' Association, the University of Alberta and the Alberta Federation of Home and School Associations.

If approved the bill will give the minister of education the authority to establish emergency teacher training programs. Mr. Aalborg has stated they probably would be of six weeks' duration, coinciding with the university's summer school, and would be given at Calgary or Edmonton or both centres. Purpose of the bill, the government argues, is to place "student-teachers" in classrooms (mostly in isolated areas) where the only form of instruction has been by correspondence courses under supervisors.

Hon. L. C. Halmirast, agriculture minister, argued that the standard of instruction in these classrooms would be raised by the use of student-teachers rather than of mail-order lessons and supervisors, who are not allowed to teach.

Mr. Leavitt contended that any plan of emergency teacher training should fit within a long-range plan of solving the teacher shortage. He also said there is more of an "education shortage" than a teacher shortage. He believed many of today's complaints about the curriculum stem from not having enough highly-qualified teachers.

By starting now on a long-range plan, he told the House, the province could be producing teachers with permanent certification after four years of formal training. He believed they could be induced to stay in the profession by a system of government grants which would automatically be higher for the better-trained teacher. The grants today are the same regardless of the qualifications, he said.

There seemed to be little doubt in the minds of most persons around the legislative buildings that the bill would be passed.

The pension for cabinet ministers will be based on much the same principle as those for civil servants of the government. They would be retroactive to last September and the present ministers would be allowed to pay into the pension fund the amount they would have paid had the fund been operating when they became cabinet ministers.

Opposition members were contending that the ministers are receiving a large enough income to buy their own annuities and retirement plans without dipping into the provincial treasury.

Compensation for members of the legislative assembly would provide payment in cases where a member travelling to and from the session or committee meetings or on government business is killed or totally disabled.

Beside these matters the legislature as the week ended still had considerable legislation to deal with before the House could prorogue. Of 120 bills which have been introduced, only 13 had been given third reading (final passage) and royal assent. As each day passed it seemed to add another day to the length of time the session would last, although most were of the opinion it would end this week.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

The Editor, Vulcan Advocate.

Dear Sir:

I feel a little embarrassed about writing this letter since I would not like any to accuse our Society of seeking free advertising for the forthcoming production of H.M.S. Pinafore, but a constant question being asked our ticket sellers needs to be answered. The question: "For what are the funds to be used?"

In the first place, the Society is young and did not expect to make any profit on this first production. The cost of the production will be in the neighborhood of $450 and a lot of tickets will have to be sold before we bring H.M.S. Pinafore to Port with a paying cargo, but should it pay, any profits will be used for the development of cultural interests in the community. I can think of two such interests that need to be considered. In Vulcan at the present time there is no Instrumental Boys' or Adult band, and secondly there needs to be more facilities for Children's playgrounds. I feel I can give the assurance to the public that in return for their wholehearted support, these projects will have the support of the Vulcan Choral Society, though since I am merely the Dramatic and Musical Director, I cannot at this time speak categorically.

I would like to say to the public at large: Give us your support—you will not be disappointed in the entertainment you get, and will not be disappointed in the disposal of the profits—if any—after the show is over. My company, for they are my company, have worked hard and I am looking to their town not to let them down.

Sincerely,

John S. Clarke.
